Əlavə informasiya

I am a Java Software Engineer at SQL.az, a consulting and training center offering solutions in Software Development, and a Junior Software Engineer at ANDRITZ, a global leader in industrial technology and services. With a strong foundation in algorithm and data structures, as well as mathematical skills, I design and implement efficient and optimized software solutions for various clients and projects.

I am also pursuing a Bachelor's degree in Mathematics and Computer Science from Baku Engineering University, where I have honed my skills in core Java, data structures, databases, API development, Docker, AngularJS, Angular, and message queue. Additionally, I have specialized in data integration using Talend Open Studio, a powerful tool for data transformation and analysis. I am passionate about solving complex programming problems and creating scalable applications that deliver value and exceed expectations. I am eager to collaborate with a team and contribute to innovative and impactful software development.
